

TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE OPPORTUNITIES

The Bringing Recovery Supports to Scale Technical Assistance Center Strategy (BRSS TACS) project, funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), is dedicated to promoting wide-scale adoption of recovery-oriented supports, services, and systems for people in recovery from substance use and/or mental health conditions. The BRSS TACS Team can assist you in your work through free training opportunities, telephone consultations, email resources, peer learning, webcasts, distance learning, and knowledge products.

SAMPLE TOPICS INCLUDE:

- ◆ Recovery-oriented systems of care
- ◆ Peer recovery supports
- ◆ Financing recovery supports (peer or non-peer provided)
- ◆ Capacity building for peer-run and recovery community organizations, including strategic planning, organizational assessment and readiness, effective marketing, sustainability and evaluation
- ◆ Integration of services with primary care
- ◆ Leadership by people in recovery and family members
- ◆ Recovery supports for specific populations such as minorities; veterans; youth; criminal justice; people experiencing homelessness; and those identifying as lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT)
- ◆ Cultural competence
- ◆ Trauma Informed Care
- ◆ Social and Community Integration
- ◆ Training models and State-specific certification requirements for peer specialists and peer recovery coaches
- ◆ Core competencies for recovery-oriented behavioral health workers
